

...it is only foolhardiness to disobey an outlaw as any Police-man or other man who do not throw up their arms directly as I call on them knows the consequence which is a speedy dispatch to Kingdom Come...

Profiling Ned Kelly

...if the character and career of the outlaws depended upon tradition I imagine that in the course of time Ned Kelly would come to occupy a position in history similar to occupied by Robin Hood.

Constable Thomas McIntyre

Join FBI trained profiling expert, Steve Longford as he delves deep into the character of Australia's most notorious Bushranger, Ned Kelly.

Steve will also examine Constable Thomas McIntyre, sole witness to the murders of three police at Stringybark Creek by Ned Kelly in 1878.

Both Kelly and McIntyre left written documentation of their experiences and thoughts: Ned Kelly via the Jerilderie Letter and Thomas McIntyre via an unpublished manuscript. Find out what these written documents reveal about the personality and psychology of two of the most intriguing people in Australia's history.

This is a free event, however bookings are essential.

Where:

Victoria Police
Museum

World Trade Centre
637 Flinders Street

When:

Friday June 18

4:00pm - 5:00pm

Bookings:

03 9247 5304

policemusem-mgr@
police.vic.gov.au